Banjo Paterson – Vessel Information

Banjo Paterson is a traditional 60ft sloop built in Melbourne in 1973 and was originally designed as a cruiser racer. At the time of building she was one of the largest boats of her kind to be built in Australia and has developed a rich history to her name. This 30 ton steel yacht has sailed three Sydney to Hobart's, taken line honors in a Sydney to Noumea and amazingly still holds the race record for the Sydney to Suva race set in the late 1970s.

In 1981 she was fitted out with the necessary equipment to operate as a charter yacht, and operated out of Sydney Harbour. In 1983 Banjo came up to the Whitsunday's and began her new life as the first ferry to transport guests from the mainland to Hamilton Island until new high speed catamarans took over in the late 80s.

Currently Banjo Paterson operates scheduled day cruises to Whitehaven Beach & Sunset Sails within the sheltered waters surrounding Hamilton Island. She is available however for part or full day charters to be a part of your wedding celebration.

The rates for the Banjo Paterson are made up of three components. One is the cost of the vessel which is a flat fee depending on the duration, time of day and number of passengers. The second is the food & beverage component which is charged per person, the third is the reef tax (environmental management charge) which is charged for all persons 3 years and over.

Total cost of this levy for day charters is $7.00pp comprising of $5pp GBRMPA, $1.55pp for EPA & .45c Administration fee. Cost of this levy for evening charters is $2.50pp for GBRMP only.
